

Alan Demmitt is an associate professor in the Department of Counselor Education and Human Services at the University of Dayton. Dr. Demmitt has served as the chair of the department, program coordinator of the school counseling program and Human Services program, clinical coordinator of the counseling program and teaches clinical courses in the community counseling program. Alan approaches counseling from a systemic perspective and is interested in the impact faith has on how one experiences life's difficulties. Alan has worked as a therapist/counselor for 25 years and is an Independent Marriage & Family Therapist and a Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor.